

This collaboration diagram shows the CampusSafe system where the SystemController object serves as the control object, managing user and admin actions. Users and admins can do operations like registering, logging in, logging out, changing passwords, and recovering forgotten passwords. The SystemController allows the actions, enabling additional functions such as adding incident reports and safety posts. It also notifies users through a Notification object. The IncidentReport and SafetyPost components interact with the SystemController to update posts and reports.